Sam represents startup companies and investors in connection with venture capital financings, mergers and acquisitions, entity formation, and general corporate matters. She has represented clients in a diverse array of industries and at various stages of their development.

Before focusing her practice in the emerging companies and venture capital space, she worked with major global clients at an Am Law 100 law firm on corporate transactions such as mergers and acquisitions, debt and equity capital markets offerings, spin-offs, reorganizations, bank financings, and private equity fund formation.

During law school, Sam interned for the Hon. Melvin L. Schweitzer of the Supreme Court of the State of New York (First Judicial Department, Commercial Division) and for the General Counsel's Office of the New York Public Library. She has provided pro bono support to low-income artists through Volunteer Lawyers for the Arts.
