

Sydney J. Kaplan

Associate

New York

T: +1 646.414.6828 | F: +1 973.597.2400

skaplan@lowenstein.com

Sydney practices in the firm's Litigation Department. She works on teams that handle commercial litigation and mediation, white collar defense, and internal investigations.

During law school, Sydney was a legal extern for Animal Law Source, an organization in Atlanta, GA, that serves as a resource and conducts trainings for animal law professionals. She was a summer associate at both Lowenstein and a law firm in Washington, D.C. focused on antitrust class action suits.

With an undergraduate degree in Political Science and Criminology/Law, Sydney worked for a large lobbying firm in Washington, D.C. before attending law school. During college she interned in the government relations office of CIT Bank, in addition to interning for two members of Congress.

EDUCATION

- > Emory University School of Law (J.D. 2019, with Honors); president, Graduate Student Government Association; Moot Court Society
- > University of Florida (B.A. 2014) cum laude, in Political Science and Criminology/Law; Anderson Scholar with Distinction

ADMISSIONS

- > New York